

2020 STEWARDSHIP KALEIDOSCOPE

Invitation from Terry McGinley

An annual gathering called “Stewardship Kaleidoscope” is one of the hidden gems of the Presbyterian Church (USA). I invite you to check it out below. Here’s why. I’ve attended a couple of times and have been impressed by the wide range of stewardship topics covered, the plenary speakers who share their views on what’s happening around the Presbyterian Church, and the chance to make connections with others.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, Stewardship Kaleidoscope will be held virtually so some of the usual fun will have to wait. In 2020, three speakers will be speaking on consecutive Tuesdays this fall. (September 22, 29 and October 6) There will be time for Q&A too. Click here for more information. Stewardship Kaleidoscope is open to both teaching elders and ruling elders. At a total cost of only $45, it’s an affordable and beneficial way to use your continuing education dollars. You won’t even have to book a hotel, make travel plans, or be away from your family for very long! Click here to register.

“Kaleidoscope” is the perfect word to describe this event. Just like the real thing, there are a lot of pieces to an effective stewardship program. The topic is colorful and, with each passing moment, the way things look in your particular context can change. Stewardship Kaleidoscope is one of the best ways I know to stay current on the subject of financial stewardship. So, when this program returns in 2021, be ready to jump at the chance for the full experience!
